AFINITI, MEDINI

Afiniti is a mixed-use development that forms part of a new urban township called Medini in Iskandar, Malaysia. The flagship scheme for Medini features over 2.0 hectares of green space on multiple levels and aims to promote residents' and visitors' wellbeing through therapeutic horticulture. The five zones; serviced apartments, residential units, a wellness centre, corporate training centre and wellness-themed retail are all linked by the central podium landscape which seeks to blur the boundary between inside and out and promote the concept of biophilic design.
